

— Comments on Jeff Warner's Performances —

"The Saturday evening performance you did is one I'll never forget. You're a real treasure."

Craig Edwards, Sea Music Festival at Mystic Seaport, CT

"Jeff's performances are the epitome of what it is to be part of a great night of American folk and traditional music. On his last visit to Falkirk, he instantly connected with the audience and delivered a mesmerising show of the highest calibre."

Falkirk Folk Club, Falkirk, Scotland

"Jeff is my nominee for the best folk singer in America. He has a mischievous sense of humour, he plays most any instrument you can name, and his repertoire is encyclopaedic, ranging from black gospel to shanties to music hall. In a time when most folk singers rarely sing a folk song, Warner sings, almost entirely, old songs."

Bob Bossin, Canada's String Band founder, British Columbia

"There are three requirements of a good performance: awesome music, the sharing of knowledge, so that the audience leaves knowing something they didn't before, and the chance to laugh. You gave us all three; you nailed it!"

Sandy Lafleur, Acoustic Café, Milford, NH

"He is a talented musician on a variety of instruments, but that is completely overshadowed by his total love of, and involvement in, the songs he sings—he inhabits a song in a way which very few singers can do. One of the best evenings of the year."

Molly Mockford of Folk at the Royal Oak, Lewes, UK

"Jeff's one of the most welcome of the fairly frequent visitors to these shores from the US, and his gigs are always eagerly awaited and supported by those in the know. Quite simply, he's one of the most charismatic, enthusiastic and genuinely versatile performers on the whole scene, with a warm and approachable personality to match his encyclopaedic knowledge of traditional song."

David Kidman, Netrhythms (UK)

"I've just received a copy of your magnificent Jolly Tinker – what a joy! It is without doubt one of the finest traditional American recordings I've ever heard."

Frank Hennessy, "Celtic Heartbeat" BBC Radio Wales (UK)

"My favourite Americana musician."

Archie Fisher (UK)
